Georgia College At Milledgeville

Pafford Speaks At Convocation-Dedication

Dr. Ward Pafford, president of west Georgia College, was the featured speaker for the convocation dedication program scheduled for Georgia College on Wednesday, Sept. 27.

The combination program, which officially opened the fall quarter and at the same time dedicated three new buildings, was held on the front campus lawn at the Milledgeville college beginning at 2 p.m.

In addition to the convocation address by Dr. Pafford, three other short talks were heard in tribute to those for whom the buildings are named.

Dr. Rosa Lee Walston, professor emerita of English at GC, reminisced about Professor Mary Thomas Maxwell for whom the new student center is named and a colleague of Dr. Walston's in the English department.

Dr. Sara L. Nelson, professor emerita of mathematics, paid homage to Professor Alice Napier for whom Napier Hall, a new dormitory, is named and a former colleague of Dr. Nelson's in the math department.

Dr. William H. Jones, a retired professor of chemistry at Emory University, spoke about Dr. Charles W. Herty for whom the new addition to the existing Herty Science Hall is named. Dr. Jones, an active member of the Atlanta chapter of the American Chemical Society, was instrumental in inaugurating the Herty Science award at the college.

Dr. J. Whitney Bunting, GC president, introduced Dr. Pafford and guests on the speaking platform. Dr. George L. Simpson, Jr., chancellor of the University System of Georgia presented the new buildings formally to the college and Dr. Bunting accepted.

Dr. Pafford, earned his A.B. and M.A. degrees at Emory University and his Ph.D. degree at Duke University. Before moving to West Georgia a year ago, he taught at Clemson and Emory Universities and was dean of the college and vice president and dean of faculties at Valdosta State College.

His special fields are 19th Century English literature, romantic poetry, and literary criticism. Dr. Pafford has been published in a number of professional journals including the Keats-Shelley Journal, Studies in Romanticism, and the South Atlantic Bulletin.

He began his career in education at Moultrie High School.

Dr. John E. Sallstrom, professor of philosophy and religion at GC, asked the invocation and pronounced the benediction at the convocation-dedication ceremony, and Dr. Robert F. Wolfersteig, chairman of the music department, played the processional and recessional.

An open house was held at all three buildings following the convocation-dedication program with refreshments being served in the Maxwell College Union.

G. C. Joins NAIA And GIAC

Georgia College in Milledgeville has become a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, according to an announcement made today by Dr. J. Whitney Bunting, college president.

As a new member of the NAIA, the college will compete in the association's 25th district.

As a member of the GIAC, Georgia College will be part of a conference that already includes Georgia Southwestern, LaGrange, Piedmont, West Georgia, North Georgia, Shorter, and Berry.

Georgia College will participate in soccer, basketball, tennis, golf, and baseball as a member of the two organizations, according to Floyd V. Anderson, chairman of the department of health, physical education, and recreation.

NAIA was the first and is still the only national organization whose primary and sole purpose is to champion the cause and promote the interests of the colleges of moderate enrollment with sound athletic philosophies and programs.

The Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference was formed in the 1950's primarily as a basketball league. Later, the conference expanded its athletic program to include soccer, tennis, track and field, baseball, and golf as well as basketball.

Devoted to the same basic principles as the NAIA, the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference seeks to develop a well-rounded athletic program at the college level and maintain high standards of competition among member schools.

The college is not now a member of any athletic conference.

Snyder Art Show To Open G.C.

Art Exhibitions

"Betty Sanders Snyder---In Retrospect" is the title of the first art exhibit at Georgia College this fall.

The exhibit, to run at the Ina Dillard Russell Library on campus from Oct. 1 through Oct. 22, will feature the work of Betty Sanders Snyder, a candidate for the B.S. degree in art education at the college.

Mrs. Snyder is the wife of the Rev. Milton Snyder, assistant chief clinical chaplain at Central State Hospital.

Mrs. Snyder, a native of Swainsboro, is a 1951 graduate of Tift College where she majored in English and religious education. She has pursued additional studies at Georgia Southern College, the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, N.C., the former High Museum School of Art in Atlanta, and GC.

Approximately a third of the works in the exhibition to open at the college on Sunday (Oct. 1) represent those completed from 1952 through 1970. The others were completed during Mrs. Snyder's two years at the college beginning in 1970.

Included in the exhibition are paintings, collages and assemblages, sculpture, jewelry, ceramics, and textiles and prints, all by Mrs. Snyder.

Mrs. Snyder's exhibition, the first in a series scheduled by the GC art department during the academic year, is open to the public.

In addition to exhibits by all senior art majors at the college, the exhibition schedule will include a show of architectural renderings and models by W.G. Clark of Charleston, S.C., an exhibit of paintings by Lamar Lynes, and a show and sale of prints by the Ferdinand Roten Gallery in Baltimore.

Tentatively scheduled is a show from the IBM collection featuring facsimile scale models of inventions by Leonard da Vinci.

G.C. Names Two For Intern Program

Peggy Ann Harris of East Point and William T. Ferrell of Thomaston have been named by Georgia College as nominees for the legislative intern program conducted in Atlanta during the winter quarter.

The two GC students will compete with other college and university students for a chance to work for the state General Assembly.

A committee will select seven students and announce program participants in September.

A total of 30 interns are selected for the program, with 23 coming from Atlanta area colleges and universities and the University of Georgia.

Miss Harris and Ferrell will be among those competing for the other seven slots.

Last year, a GC nominee, Mary Ruth Carden of Cedartown was one of the interns selected.

Miss Harris is a junior and Ferrell is a senior. Both are political science majors. Both were members of the sophomore honor society at GC and both have been on the Dean's List at the college.

Each intern will spend the winter quarter in Atlanta with most interns being assigned to General Assembly committees.

Each intern enrolls in a special course on the legislative process during the fall quarter and on completion of the internship is awarded 15 quarter hours credit in political science by his college.

During the winter quarter the interns will attend special seminars designed to acquaint

Senate Elections

The new Senate representatives will be elected on October 10, 1972. Anyone wishing to run may fill out a petition, put it in the ballot box, and sign a roster before October 3 at 6:00 p.m. To be qualified to run, you must have a 2.0 average and must be a resident of the district in which you are applying. Please check the dorm bulletin boards for the number of representatives for your dorm or check the bulletin board in the Maxwell College Union if you are a day student. Remember that the Senate is your way of making your opinion work on campus. We want a real good turnout for this election, so be sure to sign up. For further information, contact Susie Powell.

At the conclusion of the winter quarter the GC interns will present a paper to their faculty adviser for grading and take an oral final exam covering the operations of the General Assembly.

Guidelines For Maxwell College Union

General Hours for First Level:
8:00 A.M.-11:00 Monday-Friday;
10:00 A.M.-11:00 Saturday;
12:00 Noon-11:00 Saturdays.

II. Use of Building

A. Guidelines for entire building: 1. Your Georgia College ID is your "calling card" to the college union. Faculty, faculty wives, and staff must have ID's and they are to be used in the same way as the students' ID's. 2. Rented equipment is returned by the person who rented it. 3. Reservations are for a maximum of sixty minutes unless arrangements are made and approved at the time of registration. 4. All visual communications that are posted in the college union must be approved by the Director or Building Manager. 5. All programs that take place in the college union are registered in the office of the Director. 6. The College reserves the right to close the Union for special events planned for large numbers of people who are invited in the interest of the college.

B. Guidelines for registration for space: 1. The Maxwell College Union can serve each group only to the extent of the information that is supplied the union. Misuse of rooms may result in refusal of future requests. 2. All reservations for all facilities inside and outside the College Union are registered in the office of the Director of the College Union Activities. Exception--Mailing room and Bookstore. 3. Registration of Events--a. Organizations that do not have areas available in their respective buildings or departments may schedule areas at discretion of the Director. b. Reservations and/or confirmation can be made one month in advance although registration will be accepted and scheduled, if available, two weeks in advance. c. Any space that is not reserved in advance may be requested by college organizations. d. Deadline for reservations is noon preceding the event. 4. Calendar of Events: a. Monthly Calendar--All events registered one week prior to the first week of the month. Distribution--campus wide. b. Weekly Calendar--as space is available--events may be registered one week in advance. c. All publicity for any event utilizing union facilities must be approved by the Director of the College Union-Student Activities. 5. Registration Procedure--a. Reservations are made in the office of the Director of College Union-Student Activities. b. The Director of the College Union-Student Activities reserves the right to reassign rooms when necessary because of the number involved and/or type of activity. c. Room arrangements will be in a standard set-up unless other arrangements are requested. d. Four copies of reservations are made and the original copy remains in the Director's office. Copies go to the following: 1.) Building Manager; 2.) The Person requesting the reservation; 3.) Food Service where applicable; 4.) Director Adult and Community Programs. e. Registrations will not be made after 5:00 p.m. (Monday thru Friday).

III. Recreation and Equipment A. All recreational equipment will be checked out from the assistant in the equipment room; B. The person checking out the equipment will: 1. Sign his name on a check out form which will also include the item checked out, the time of checkout and return of item.; 2. Leave his ID card with the assistant during the use of the equipment; 3. Pay the appropriate fee upon return of the equipment and before the return of his ID card.; C. Every person is responsible for damage to equipment checked out in his name.; D. A list of fees for use of equipment will be posted at the check out desk. All damage fees must be cleared by payment or an agreement to pay.; G. Rates for rentals--1. Music Listening Room--a. A fee of 50 cents per hour was set for the use of the Music Listening rooms.; b. Recommendations; Monies collected from the rentals be used in purchasing tapes rather than records; 2. Pool Tables (Room)--a. A minimum fee of fifty cents per hour be charged; b. Thirty cents per cue stick per hour. c. Limit of one hour; 3. Ping Pong (Room) a. Fifteen cents per paddle per hour; b. One hour limit.; 4. Game Tables, cards, chess, checkers and other table games are available free of charge, but the person who checks out the games and table is responsible for returning them to the check out desk. A damage charge will be made if applicable.

IV. General Policies: A. Food on the first level--1. All sale of food will be on the second level of the building; 2. Disposable cups and snack items only will be allowed. There will be no glassware.; 3. Each person will assume the responsibility of keeping the areas clean; B. Appearance of participants--1. Shirts must be worn at all times; 2. Since shoes must be worn in the Food Service area, it is encouraged that everybody wear shoes in the Lounge area as well.

Golden Slipper Controversy

By Paula Rhodes

The proposed change in Golden Slipper has caused much uproar among its supporters. In talking with some of those who support Slipper with two productions, this reporter discovered many interesting and varying opinions. Many students think that those few representatives present at the CGA retreat did not have the right to vote on a change which affected so many students. Others felt that the students present (the majority of whom were J.A.'s) were not representative of the entire student body since the J.A.'s were not elected by students. Elected representatives included class officers, editor of the Colonnade, CGA officers, and a few presidents of campus organizations. A number of students think that the only power holding Slipper together has been the competition factor. When competition is taken out, the real spirit is lost. It also seems that many feel one production will cut out participation simply because there will not be places for everyone. Others suggested that the goals of separate productions could be changed. Both classes work together for a common cause but with competition. If the goal is to make money for charity or for scholarships, more money could be raised if competition is included. When asked how they felt about Golden Slipper several students replied, "Who wants to walk across stage as a hot water heater?" "Slipper should be more like a play. Let each class write a play and present it on that night?" "Songs should not be sung by everybody." "Give the money to Eddleman for plays." "I was looking forward to beating the shit out of ya'll." "No, I don't wear one." "I think the competition is the only thing holding it together." "I wish I had one, but I can't think of one." These are just some opinions of students gathered in a very short time. It may be that those particular students interviewed are in a minority because they dislike the idea of one production. If this is true, the majority rules and one production will be seen this Fall. If the majority of students are dissatisfied with this decision, let someone know. If it does not matter to you, fine--but let someone know that, too. Your opinion does count.

All AFLA Fencers and people interested in forming a team please contact Cheryl Frederickson, Box 1995. Equipment for college students supplied.

Changes Made In Slipper

On Friday, September 15, First it was decided that these student representatives met at the CGA Fall Retreat. CGA president, Gail Stanford, introduced the theme for her term of office as "Change." Dr. Bunting and Dean Simpson were among the speakers who also challenged those present to become involved in and to push for necessary changes on the GC campus.

One item on the agenda for this day caused much more concern and debate than any other issue discussed. This item was the changing of Golden Slipper. The following proposal was explained and then discussed in great detail before being put up for a vote.

HEW Awards Nursing Grant

Georgia College has been awarded a $8,022 grant by the Division of Nursing of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to undertake projects that would help to alleviate the shortage of nurses and to upgrade the skills of those already in the profession.

Specifically the money will be used to provide in-service or other training that would increase the skills of licensed vocational or licensed practical nurses, nursing assistants and aides, and other paraprofessional nursing personnel and to increase the enrollment in nursing school of qualified students who because of socioeconomic factors might not be able otherwise to study nursing as a career.

The department of nursing education under the direction of Catherine Summerlin will administer the grant. The grant will take effect in the fall.

New Degree Programs Approved By Regents

Two new degree programs at Georgia College have been approved by the board of regents of the University System of Georgia, according to an announcement made Sept. 15 by Dr. J. Whitney Bunting, college president.

Beginning with the fall quarter, Georgia College will offer a program leading to the M.S. degree in biology. Beginning with the summer quarter, the college will offer a program leading to an associate of science degree in mental health.

Dr. David J. Cotter, chairman of the GC biology department, in commenting on the new M.S. program, stated that although the program would be broad-based, the emphasis would be in fresh water ecology where scientists and technicians are in short supply.

Grants exceeding $100,000 awarded to the department over the past two years, a new aquatic field station on Lake Sinclair north of Milledgeville, and recently-acquired space in the new GC science building and the renovated biological research annex provide an impetus for beginning the M.S. degree program this fall, according to Dr. Cotter.

The new program will allow residents of Central Georgia to receive specialized graduate training either on a commuter or on an in-service basis and induce many to seek a graduate education in the field of biology, the department chairman noted. Six students are scheduled to begin their graduate studies in biology on Sept. 22 with the opening of the fall quarter at GC. There are presently ten on the GC biology faculty and additional faculty members will be hired as the program develops, according to Dr. Cotter.

Those enrolled in the new associate of science degree in mental health will be provided a balance in specialized, technical, and general education, according to Dr. J.F. Vincent, chairman of the chemistry department at GC. Enrollees in the program will be trained to assist in treating patients both in hospitals and in rural homes. "At the same time, the program will produce a new breed of technician who will work directly with patients and thereby relieve the manpower shortage in the field of mental health," he said.

Another objective of the program will be to provide those already engaged in the field of mental health with an opportunity to progress in their current employment and climb to positions of greater responsibility.

Practical training will be a major thrust of the program, according to Dr. Vincent, who points out that Milledgeville, the home of Georgia College, is also the location of a state youth development center, the state prison for women, and Central State Hospital, the second largest mental hospital in the world.

The college and the hospital are currently closely involved in developing educational programs in areas where expertise can be shared.

Opera Company First On Lyceum Program

"When This You See, Remember Me," a tribute to author Gertrude Stein, will be presented by the After Dinner Opera Company of New York as the first program in the 1972-73 Georgia College Lyceum Series.

The commemorative program of five short operas, all with libretti by Gertrude Stein, will be presented in Georgia College's Russell Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 16.

The production will use new multi-media techniques including taped sound, high intensity rear screen projections and moving picture films all made possible by the generosity of the Leonard Bernstein Foundation, the J.M. Kaplan Fund, the New York State Council on the Arts, and the William Mathews Sullivan Musical Foundation.

The five Gertrude Stein libretti are "Three Sisters Who Are Not Sisters", set by Ned Rorem, "Look And Long" by Florence Wickham and Marvin Schwartz, "Photograph - 1920" by Martin Kalmanoff, "Ladies' Voices" by Vernon Martin, and "In A Garden" by Meyer Kupferman.

"Look and Long" by composers Wickham and Schwartz, "Photograph" by Kalmanoff and Rorem's "Three Sisters Who Are Not Sisters" received their world premieres by the After Dinner Opera Company in 1971.

Completing the program are Vernon Martin's setting of "Ladies' Voices" which the company produced in Europe and first showed on tour there before bringing it the U.S. for its New York City premiere and Meyer Kupferman's "In A Garden", one of the operas the company presented in Scotland at the Edinburgh Festival of music and drama and subsequently toured through Germany, Austria, Luxembourg, and France.

In Paris, Alice B. Toklas, a friend of Miss Stein, attended a performance and commended the company for its efforts.

Georgia College students will be admitted free to the performance. Tickets for all others will be $1. Tickets will go on sale at the Heritage House in Milledgeville and at the Maxwell College Union on campus beginning on Oct. 2.

Senators Announce Library Grant

Grant of $5,570 has been received by Georgia College, according to GC President J. Whitney Bunting who said the announcement of the grant was made by Senators Herman Talmadge and David Gambrell.

The grant was made under Title II, Part A of the Higher Education Act of 1965. The Act authorizes grants to institutions of higher education to assist and encourage them in the acquisition of library resources.

"The money will be spent on library research materials primarily to support graduate programs at Georgia College", Library Director Charles E. Beard said. He continued, "The money will greatly enhance library materials in the subject areas of education, history, and business administration".

Beard pointed out the receipt of the grant is based upon the amount of expenditures of the institution, the library resources already available, the financial status of the students, and the number of minority group students.

yesterday,
I lived on a yellow beam of light called sunshine.
I could travel fast
or could travel none, gliding on the arch of the rainbow
with a star for my companion.
today,
along came clouds and wind and rain.
my rainbow faded
and my beam of light
was bent by ill-meaning clouds.
I tried to cling fast
but slipped from the beam and my companion hid from the cold rain.
tomorrow
will I catch another ride with bigger and better stars away from clouds to the rainbows of my choice?
or will the rain find me
tomorrow?

Dear Sir (in the blue serge suit):

Please care, because you know you do
But don't concern yourself with me.
I will not harm you
or your family.
I will protect your children from you and love them.
I will not harm you
but I will overthrow your institutions,
dispel your beliefs,
and destroy your customs.
Do not fear,
I do not threaten you--
I promise you.

Sincerely,
Today's Child
(better known as tomorrow)

do not linger,
do not cause excitement,

for I will want you to linger,
for I will be excited if you do,
but don't because pain is the only result.
if you do stay
it won't be for long,
if I think I love you
it will turn to boredom.
(pain to us both)
but please,
do pass gently through my life.

ACTION LINE

We of the Colonnade and I in particular would like to introduce you to this new series of articles being published for your needs as you attend Georgia College.

We are attempting to end some of the confusion on the part of the student body as to where to go and who to see relating to different programs and situations that arise. These may run the entire spectrum of problems that you the student may encounter. Our purpose is not to become your spokesman but simply to provide you with the information as to the individuals who may successfully aid you in working out your particular problem.

At the risk of using a worn out cliché, this is obviously your column! Without your questions we would have no column. It would be great to be able to say, "We guarantee each and every problem will be heard and something will be done about it." Of course that is impossible but we can guarantee fifty per cent of that statement. Each and every problem will be heard!!

Our normal procedure will be to take questions, locate the people who can effectively deal with the situation, and print the answer to your questions in the next issue of the paper. However, if your particular problem is personal then we will locate the answer, if there is one, and by placing your name and box number on the question we will place the answer in your box. This is a service article and we will do everything we can to be of service. We invite questions of all natures and we will attempt to point you to the right people to see.

I call upon the administration and the faculty to avail themselves to be of service and upon the student body to cooperate with us as we attempt this new venture.

One more word to the student body. No matter how ridiculous a question may seem you can bet that same question is being asked by at least 25 other students. At the risk of sounding silly I ask you to follow through on the question and settle it in your mind and in the minds of the other students. Those of you having questions may address them to: Mike Williams Box 2110

We will get you the information one way or the other by the next issue and then it is up to you.

New G. C. Instructor

Dr. Lloyd Chesnut, a recent addition to the Biology Department, received his Ph.D. in Entomology from Mississippi State University. He also has a Bachelor's degree in Zoology, and Chemistry.

His former experience includes positions at Florida Technological University and at State College in Mississippi.

Presently he serves as director of Institute of Natural Resources, an interdisciplinary adjunct of Georgia College. The primary function of the organization is to serve people of Middle Georgia with environmental research and service. He also has received a $13,200 research contract to work on insect feromones.

His many publications include:

"Survey of Arthropod Parasites of the Boll Weevil Anthonomus grandis Boheman," "Journal of Economic Entomology" which is presently in press, and "The Effect of Airport Construction on Animal Populations."

Dr. Chesnut is greatly impressed with the facilities and the students of Georgia College.

GC Leases Lake Sinclair Land

Ten acres of land along the shores of Lake Sinclair in Baldwin County have been leased to Georgia College by the Georgia Power Co. for use by the Institute of Natural Resources at the college.

The land will serve as a base of operations for a college program in aquatic biology started by the biology department in 1971 and a place where the department will undertake an independent series of observations concerning the lake's ecology and at the same time aid the power company in monitoring the lake biologically.

A detailed series of observations have already been made by a Milledgeville student, John Cline, who conducted a number of temperature and oxygen profiles as an independent study under the direction of Charles Daniel of the biology department a year ago. The observations of the Georgia Power Co. environmental surveys dating back from 1960 to date will also be very valuable records upon which to base future work, according to Dr. David J. Cotter, biology department chairman.

The Lake Sinclair site will also be used for a new course in aquatic biology to be team taught by members of the department during spring and summer quarters at the college. During the course, students will learn how to make standard limnological observations as well as learn the techniques of sampling and analyzing for water quality.

The land will also serve the needs of the aquatic phases of certain activities of the department of health, physical education and recreation at GC.

A pier and a field laboratory station will be established in the near future on the lake site.

Yeah!

Life is funny in an odd sort of way; Such as an educational institution that will offer (even require) a certain segment of its students to take a sex education course (even though the student probably knows more about sex than the instructor.) Yet it will not provide any sort of instruction in understanding the law of our society, so that when faced with the problem of dealing with the law, the hopeless student at least knows where he stands. Life is funny . . . in an odd sort of way. R.R.

The Georgia College Union is a center of the college for all the members of the college family, students, faculty, staff, administration, alumni and guests.

The College Union is a part of the educational program of Georgia College.

A. To satisfy the needs for new experiences and recognition.

B. To promote and encourage activities that will enrich the individual's life through teaching him social, cultural and recreational skills.

C. To provide opportunities for recognizing worthwhile events and good citizenship.

D. To improve the morale on campus through meaningful programs.

Section 3

The College Union is to encourage the students, faculty, staff, administration, and alumni to have pride in and loyalty to Georgia College.

Article III MEMBERSHIP

The membership of the Georgia College Union shall be currently enrolled students, faculty, staff, administration and alumni.

Article IV GOVERNMENT

Section 1

The Georgia College Union will be governed by a student-faculty administrative group known as the College Union Board.

A. Purpose. The College Union Board will be the policy making group for programs, activities, services, long-range planning and space utilization. The Board will have no financial responsibility nor will it have any duties of management of the building. All policies of this board will be subject to the approval of the President of Georgia College.

B. Membership

1. President of College Government Association-Gail Stanford; 2. Representative of Women's Dormitories-Nancy Harris; 3. Representative of Men's Dormitories-Steve Thurmond; 4. Representative of Day Students-Tommy Walker; 5. Director of College Union Activities (Secretary)-HD.; 6. Dean of Students (Chairman)-WHL; 7. Associate Dean of Students-CCG;

8. Director of Alumni Affairs-Dorrie Neligan; 9. Faculty representative appointed by the President of Georgia College-Dr. John Hargaden.

10. Faculty Representative elected by the Faculty-Lucy Underwood; 11. Building Manager-Billy Wood;

C. Voting-1. A quorum shall be a majority of voting members; 2. Votes may not be cast by proxy; 3. Any action will require a majority vote of those present; 4. The chairman shall vote only in case of a tie;

case of a tie;

D. Meetings-1. Meetings are to be called by a notice from the chairman three days in advance; 2. Meetings must be called when any member requests it in writing; 3. There should be at least one meeting each month.

E. Functions-1. Approve the committee chairmen of the Program Council; 2. Formulate regulations and policies concerning use of the building; 3. Strive to make free-time activities a cooperative factor with study and education; 4. To receive and act on applications for the use of space from the Director of the College Union Activities.

Section 2

Union Program Council-A. Purpose-To co-ordinate the activities and programs of the Union Committee.

B. Membership-Director of the College Union Activities (Chairman) and Chairmen of the several committees.

C. Committees-1. Purpose-To plan and execute activities and program of the Union. No program in the Union will carry College credit. In order to carry out the program, the following committees are created:

a. Entertainment; b. Hospitality and Social; c. Fine Arts; d. Leisure Activity; e. General; f. Publicity; g. All committees are open for membership. If you're a student, and interested, go by the Union Activities Office in the College Union as soon as possible. Once a committee has been formed, a chairman will be elected.

2. Duties of Specific Committees; a. Entertainment committee is responsible for producing shows of name entertainment, pageants, movies and developing talent throughout the college; b. Hospitality and Social is a committee whose purpose is to familiarize students with the total program. This committee has the opportunity to work with all committees, but is responsible for all dances and should make all arrangements for any social programs such as teas, receptions, and coffee hours; c. Fine Arts Committee is responsible for promotion programs such as exhibits, lectures, discussion groups, forums and debates. In brief, any program that contributes to a broader education in the areas of art, music, humanities and related fields; d. Leisure Activity Committee is responsible for coordinating, planning and executing all recreational activities provided in the Union. This committee is responsible for all tournaments, instruction in crafts, dancing, bridge, chess and other special interests; e. General Committee has the responsibility of familiarizing students with the functions and organization of the Union. Members of this committee should work on all committees. f. Publicity Committee has the responsibility of an advertising agency. Since each program is dependent upon good advertising, it is evident that this committee must realize the keen responsibility in every area of Union activity.

3. Duties of Committees-All committees will be responsible for at least one program each quarter except the General and Publicity committees. Each committee member will be urged to attend as many Union-sponsored events as possible or feasible. Reports will be made and will be used in evaluating and improving the program.

4. Selection and Committees-a. Each committee shall be composed of (a) Committee members (b) those persons who volunteer to participate in committee activity; b. Applications for Committee membership shall be received no later than the first week of May. Those applying after September, 1973 must have participated for at least two quarters of a Union Committee; c. Applicants to be designated as chairmen must have and maintain at least a 2.00 average and must be in good standing with the college; d. Each committee shall have as many members as necessary for the proper administration of its functions; e. The outgoing Program Council shall recommend to the Union Board the chairmen of all committees; f. Vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled in the same manner of selection.

5. Duties of Committee Chairmen-All chairmen of committees shall preside over committee meetings, appoint subcommittees, and supervise the activities and programs of their particular committees.

6. Faculty Resource Persons; Faculty resource persons shall be selected by the committees to aid in fulfilling their duties.

ARTICLE V SPACE

Section 1

Space in the College Union shall be assigned and re-assigned by the Director of College Union Activities with the exception of the mail room and bookstore.

Article VI AMENDMENTS

Section 1

Amendments may be made by the presentation of the amendment to the Union Board by one of its voting members. The approval of two thirds of the total voting members is required to amend these articles.

Section 2

Amendments may not voted upon at the same meeting at which they are presented.

What Freshman Think Of GC

Sally Ainslie and Gail Thompson--We love it, but we can't stand it.

Sandra Langford-I think it's pretty good, but there's not a damn thing to do.

New Dorm--They ought to have an elevator for third floor drunks.

Janis Dixon--It's okay but it better get better. The food is alright, but you have to walk so far to get it.

Deborah Byrd--We need sound proof rooms.

Jean Mullis--An escalator would be nice.

Donna Chocalker--They ought to have equal rights for women. Melaine Criswell--They ought to have running water in rooms. Bill Cochran--No comment!

The Drummers Club

by Jacquelyne E. Jones

There is a new organization on this campus called the Drummer's Club, and it's function is just what the name implies. Its purpose is to put G.C. on the map in any way possible, but primarily by boosting our numbers and building up our athletic program.

It is also designed to provide some unity among the students, faculty, administration, local residents, and even people all over the state. As Mr. William Childers explained it, "People often come to college thinking only about what they can get out of it. We should all start thinking about what we can all put into it, and we'll all get more out of it." Mr. Childers, as well as many others feel that the Drummer's is the way to do this.

The only requirement for joining is a genuine concern for the unity and progress of this school. There is no age limit, one need not be directly connected with this school. Gov. Jimmy Carter is a member as are many others who have never attended G.C.

There is also a five dollar membership fee. Mr. Childers told the Colonnade that at the present time no decision has been made on which project will be selected. As of yet the membership is still small, and the club is waiting until new members can be recruited, and there will be more people to provide ideas.

If anyone is interested in joining this organization or in obtaining more information, he should look up Mr. William Childers in the History Dept. or Dr. Harriet Whipple in the Biology department. Either will be eager to give any details available.

ment Association will not have a Secretary of Communications, and the Colonnade will not have an art editor because one of GC's students was termed by the dean of students as "a danger to Napier Hall and Georgia College."

Name withheld upon request.

Dear Editor:

The competition involved in Golden Slipper came to an untimely end as selected members of the student body voted in favor of one unified production. For those interested, the vote (out of 40 participating) consisted of 20 members in favor, 17 opposed, and 3 abstaining. According to the GC constitution, any vote must have a majority. If 20 is a majority, good luck. Of course, this has been a subject of much controversy for many years now, and I feel that the decision on behalf of CGA will do nothing but create more controversy.

Two choices were given: 1) Golden Slipper as it was (two separate productions); or 2) Golden Slipper as one production with changes. In my opinion there should have been at least four choices: 1) Golden Slipper as it was; 2) Golden Slipper as one, with changes; 3) Golden Slipper as two productions with changes; and 4) No Golden Slipper. This as I see it would have been legitimate.

As many upperclassmen know, during registration a survey was made to determine how the student body felt on certain matters. One of these matters of concern was Golden Slipper. I would like to ask why was there no mention of a unified slipper? Why was there no question such as, would you participate in one joint Slipper?

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I have been a student at Georgia College for several quarters and I have come to love it as an institution of higher learning, but I have also come to realize that its faults are rapidly increasing in number. The heartbreaking truth is that the faculty and administration doesn't seem to care that the school's faults are increasing to rapidly. They hail the "modernization" of Georgia College, yet they fail to realize the fact that the completion of three new buildings does not make this college one in keeping with today's modern society. They also fail to realize that the academic and social liberties of the students themselves are what makes a college "modern."

Their lack of knowledge of "what's happening" was clearly evident in an event of Monday night, September 25th. A proctor was on the way from his room to the common house at Napier Hall. When he reached the front hall of second floor he smelled the presence of marijuana being used by occupants of the dorm. He immediately contacted the dorm mother and the campus police. Meanwhile, in Room 224A, a certain student was in his bed getting ready to go to sleep when one of his friends came in for a book. They rapped for a while and the visitor decided to leave. Upon opening the door his eyes were blinded by the glare of clean white socks and the red glow just below the head of a certain proctor sitting outside the door. Upon instructions from the proctor, the visitor unwillingly remained in Room 224A. Soon the word was out that the occupants of 224A were being busted. They were busted, and during this spectacular event, approximately 20 to 30 people gathered outside Room 224A to catch up on the latest news.

The two occupants of Room 224A were brought before part of the Student-Faculty Relation Committee for hearing. Three rather liberal students from GC were never notified that the meeting was to be held. Was it because they may not have agreed to the conservative members' decisions? We'll never know.

During the course of the hearing, one of the busted students was hailed as having a reputation among the faculty as being an alert, responsible student. Nevertheless, he was suspended for a quarter and put on probation for two quarters because he was "guilty" of disposing of a friends weed. The other occupant was required, during the hearing, to show what kind of matches he was carrying at the moment. In other words, a lot of irrelevant bull was knocked around at the hearing. A roach (remains of a joint) that was supposedly found in the ashtray in Room 224A was never seen. Therefore, no one knows but the "piglice" and the dean of students whether there really was a roach in the ashtray. (All have sinned and come short of the Glory of God).

For the rest of this quarter, the Junior Class will not have a vice-president, the College Govern-
